

Indiana's telephone privacy law is great and FCC ought not implement any proposal that would lessen its considerable power. It works like a charm, has improved privacy (and dinnertime) in my house. Used to receive 20 calls/week, now I get NONE. How much better could it be? Our law is important, effective, needs no govt. attention. Thanks.